

Professionals Position (w/m/d)

We're a really strong partner in the property world. We're also in the top league when it comes to the working world, as our employee surveys show. Those who work with us soon realize that we do a lot of things differently – like giving everyone the freedom to develop, make an impact and take responsibility. For a bank, we're really different! Would you like to work like this? If so, then we have the right job for you here:

What you can look forward to:

- ✓ In your role, you will be the link between IT and business departments around the topic of digital workplace 4.0, which you will actively manage. In doing so, you will be in close contact with specialist departments and process participants, right up to the top management level.
- ✓ Up to the top management level, whose requirements you record, analyze and evaluate. At all times, you will be aware of internal requirements with regard to the digital workplace and, taking security issues into account, will clarify the options for technical implementation with the IT specialists
- ✓ You keep an eye on market developments and develop solutions on the basis of current technologies, taking into strategies and technical concepts that can be implemented, taking into account cost-benefit-risk aspects and the conflicting interests of the business unit and the IT target image
- ✓ You will trigger and control the introduction of new technologies within the bank and enable our specialist departments to use them in an optimal way
- ✓ You establish and coordinate new communication formats to ensure smooth processes

What we can look forward to:

- ✓ Degree in business administration or (business) informatics
- ✓ Secure insights into the topic of digital workplace, noticeable enthusiasm for future technologies and broad understanding of technology

- ✓ Good knowledge of the Microsoft product suite, Apple products, collaboration platforms and tools for agile project support
- ✓ Several years of professional experience in consulting or enterprise organization
- ✓ Ability to work at eye level with business departments and top management
- ✓ Strong interpersonal skills, strong communication skills and a confident demeanor at all hierarchy levels
- ✓ Analytical, conceptual and entrepreneurial team player who works on his own initiative thinks in a networked way and approaches his tasks with initiative and dynamism

This is what we do differently:

- ✓ Varied tasks: Work for us and you can contribute your expertise to cross-divisional projects, progress specific topics and create something new. We have a culture that allows everyone to become actively involved and make an impact.
- ✓ Extraordinary career development opportunities: Since we nurture experts and managers to the same degree, we support you by providing personalized development options and learning paths to enable you to expand your existing skills and acquire new, forward-looking capabilities.
- ✓ A good work-life balance: With mobile working and our flexible working time models, you can organize your work to suit your individual needs. This lets you achieve the work-life-family balance that's best for you.
- ✓ Excellent benefits: Our services and benefits offer you genuine added value and are one of the reasons why we are a top employer. Join us and you will receive discounts from our cooperation partners or subsidies for public transport, for example. You can also put money aside for your future with our occupational pension and capital formation schemes.
- ✓ Active health management: Medical check-ups, counselling services, communal sports events or our beloved canteen or coffee bar – feel free to take advantage of the offerings that boost your health and well-being.
